

Henry is looking for a restaurant serving authentic food and wants to have the local cuisine of the place

Where can I find a restaurant serving local cuisine?

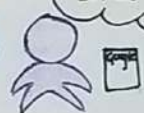

Henry is a tourist.

Henry finds too many results on Google which were irrelevant to him. He also finds information of only the cliché places.

Oh God! So many search results. Can I just ask someone?

He then asks a local. The local dismisses him saying he was in a hurry. Henry finds another local who suggests a restaurant.

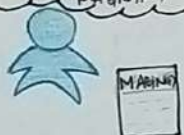

I am in a hurry. Could you ask someone else?

Check out food street. You'll get authentic food there.

Local posts his review about the places he would suggest on MAGNIFY, which he would ask tourists to look at saving his time.

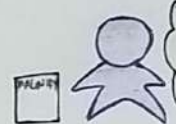

I just found this stall of a local vendor selling beautiful souvenirs. Let me update them on MAGNIFY.

Where do I go next?

With no one to ask around, Henry is not able to decide which place to go to next.

Henry remembers about MAGNIFY an app which was suggested to him by a friend. He checks out the recommendations, ratings & decides on a place to go to.

Oh yeah! Let me check out MAGNIFY.

He finds a place of his interest on MAGNIFY and also finds a suggestion of a nearby souvenir stall.

Let me buy the souvenirs from the stall for my friends.

Based on his satisfaction, Henry posts a review about the place. This will help others explore the commonly missed out places.

I am so glad I found this place on MAGNIFY. Let me give it a 5 star rating.
